Funds Seem Likely
for Ozan Creek
Reply on Narrows

Many a guy cuts out poker and drinking after merrymaking. But lots of them would have had to cut out eating if they hadn't.

Dr. G. D. Royston of the Royston Farm, Hope Route Three, writes your editor: "I think many of our citizens will be interested in the enclosed letter from Senator John L. McClellan reporting progress made in behalf of the Ozan creek project for which he has been working."

Senator McClellan's letter, dated May 20 at Washington, D. C., follows:

"Dear Dr. Royston: This is with further reference to my letter of February 18 in which I stated that I would try to have the Appropriations Committee of the Senate include an amount for the Ozan creek project. I am happy to advise that an item of $57,500 for this project is included in the bill just reported out by the Senate Appropriations Committee. I believe that this item will be included in the bill as passed by the Senate and I am hopeful that the House of Representatives will accept it.

"You may be assured that I will do all that I can to get this work under way as quickly as possible.

"I would appreciate your advising your friends of what is happening. Sincerely yours,

JOHN L. McCLELLAN

And from Peter Harkins, director of the Arkansas Publicity & Information Department, the following letter was received dated May 25 at Little Rock:

"Your editorial of May 12 has come to hand and your point about the slanting of publicity was well taken. Being a northwest Arkansian, I often have a tendency to overlook the many miles of wonderful fishing water in other parts of our state. You are quite right in stressing that Narrows (lake) is a very attractive lure for Texans and merits a much more intensive campaign of publicity than has heretofore been exerted on its behalf.

"In view of this prompting editorial, I have arranged for Narrows area to be featured on KATV television (channel 7) May 31. Frank Brey, businessman and tourist publicist of Camden, as to be the featured spokesman on that show.

"Rest assured any slighting of any section of the state by this office is pure oversight and never deliberate or malicious. I have the feeling that as the publicity program of this office develops, you will agree that our aims are 100 per cent impartial and that we have the good of the whole state at heart. Sincerely yours,

PETER HARKINS

We appreciate acknowledgment of the editorial.

"I've never believed the state's recreational publicity was slanted intentionally, but north Arkansas is a generation ahead of us in bidding for vacation tourists, and each new facility deserves a fair amount of attention as it is developed and thrown open to the public in other sections—the case in point being our beautiful southwest Arkansas lake.

The tourist trade is important to every section. The Narrows lake development will put additional traffic through Hope and Nashville and Murfreesboro. But we have no big-city papers and no organized group promoting it as the resort areas of the Ozarks are promoted.

Louis Graves of the Nashville News, your Star editor, the Polands of Swaha lodge, the Featherstones of Murfreesboro, the Reeds of Daisy landing, and Nashville and Hope Chambers of Commerce have to do most of what promoting is done.

And yet with this slight effort, plus some letter-writing, the Narrows has captured the majority of Texas and Arkansians vacationists coming into Louisiana.

We mean to keep on seeing to it that recognition is given by state and regional tourist agencies.

McCarthy's Files Subpoenaed on Schine's Work

By RAYMOND LAHR and HERBERT FOSTER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate investigators today served a subpoena on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy for files on all cases on which G. David Schine worked.

McCarthy showed newsmen the subpoena as he arrived for the afternoon session of the Army-McCarthy hearings. He said it would be "clarified" shortly.

McCarthy countered by asking that a subpoena be issued on Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens for all files related to the proposed removal of Maj. Gen. Kirk B. Lawton from command at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

The subpoena, signed in green ink by hearing Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), called on McCarthy to "deliver forthwith" to Special Counsel Ray H. Jenkins all subcommittee files pertaining to the Voice of America; the Overseas Information Service; the Government Printing Office; Communists and subversives in the Army, "and all other files."

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON (UP) — The White House in a challenge to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy declared today that the President's powers "cannot be usurped by any individual who may seek to set himself above the laws of our land."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty issued a statement at the direction of Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., and approved by President Eisenhower, answering a McCarthy appeal to informants within the administration.

Under the constitution, the statement said, the executive branch has "the sole and fundamental responsibility" for enforcement of laws and presidential orders drafted "to protect the security of our nation."

Hagerty said the statement was issued in response to inquiries about statements made by the Wisconsin Republican senator at yesterday's Army-McCarthy hearings. He said the statement was "a direct answer to the charges at the televised hearing, McCarthy had addressed to the 2,000,000 employees of the executive branch an appeal for any information the might have 'about graft, corruption, communism, treason.'"

At one point McCarthy complimented those who, he said, placed their oaths to defend the country "above and beyond any presidential directive."

On this score the White House statement said presidential responsibilities "cannot be usurped by any individual who may seek to set himself above the laws of our land or to over ride orders of the President of the United States to Federal employees of the executive branch of the government."

Hagerty would not answer questions about whether McCarthy might be subjected to criminal prosecution for obtaining classified government information.

Mayes said that Adams, who operated a grocery store, had signed a statement in which he admitted setting the fire to collect $7,500 in insurance money.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Raymond McCuen estimated damage to the concrete block building at $7,000.

Mayes quoted Adams as saying he needed the money to pay off bills.

3 Key Points Holding Up Plan for Cease Fire

By EDWARD M. KORRY

GENEVA (UP) — East and West agreed in principle today, at an extraordinary morning conference of experts, to old military talks in Geneva shortly to draw lines for an Indochina cease fire.

But three sharp disagreements still remained as a barrier to ending the fighting, experts of the nine nations concerned listed the points of agreement and disagreement.

The principal point of agreement called for representatives of the rival military command to come to a decision on how and where to regroup their forces when a cease-fire became effective.

William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA), said last night the union might not be able to keep its members at work if the National Labor Relations Board started "kicking our victory around like they did before."

Bradley's reference was to the NLRB's invalidation of a pre-Christmas election in which the ILA held a vote margin over the rival AFL-ILA. The election which could have been decided by challenged ballots, was voided on the ground that ILA members employed intimidation and coercion at the polls. The challenged ballots were never counted.

Texarkana Bank Pays Big Dividend

TEXARKANA (UP) — The State National Bank of Texarkana plans to pay a 100 per cent dividend on common stock, providing stockholders approve at a June 11 meeting.

The directors of the bank said yesterday that the dividend will amount to about $500,000 and will be paid from undivided profits.

Bank President Stuart Wilson said distribution is expected to be made later in June, but declined to reveal the number of shareholders involved.

Stockholders at the June 11 meeting also will be asked to approve the reduction of the par value of bank stock from $100 to $10. Wilson said that under the plan a shareholder now owning 10 shares would receive 100 shares of new stock plus another 100 shares in the stock dividend.

New Strike on Waterfront Threatened

NEW YORK (UP) — A new waterfront strike threat hung over the Port of New York today in the wake of an indecisive dock union representation election.

William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA), said last night the union might not be able to keep its members at work if the National Labor Relations Board started "kicking our victory around like they did before."

French Shy at Drafting Fighting Men

PARIS (UP) — With Indochina in the balance, France needs more military manpower. But there was no indication today of any plans to send draftees into the fighting. That would be an explosive change in policy.

The question of using others than volunteers has been pushed into the background. It is political, says a source. It has to be brought up for discussion, however, if the United States takes a bigger hand in Indochina.

While both the United States and Britain send draftees to Korea, France does not send them into foreign fighting in what is technically peacetime. It is forbidden by the 1950 law which made the conscription period 18 months instead of 12.

Until the defeat at Dien Bien Phu, the problem was not considered too critical. Enough volunteers could be recruited at special rates of pay, to supply the forces France considered necessary to fight in Indochina. Now that is changed and manpower is needed.

War weary, discouraged, France wants peace most of all. If she can't get a negotiated pact at the Geneva conference, she insists she must have help if she is to go on fighting. A Cabinet member said recently: "France is not going to go on alone. If she doesn't get help, then she must find a way to lay down her arms honorably in Indochina."

It is not certain his view would prevail, but he is not alone in feeling France cannot continue alone. France has soured out the United States on the changes for help. Both French and American sources say this possibility is "not excluded" at present, but no commitments have been made.

Death Toll on Carrier Reaches 94

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (UP) — The death toll in the "freakish" explosion aboard the giant aircraft carrier Bennington today reached 94 and Navy officials said it threatened to mount still higher.

Chief Radio Electrician Raymond C. Demers, husband of Donna Demers of Norfolk, Va., died early today at 3:28 a. m. EDT of injuries suffered when the ship was ripped by an explosion at sea off Rhode Island Wednesday last night.

They were listed as Lt. (JC) Paul S. Tondo of New Britain, Conn., and Chief Pay Clerk Stanley Caplow, Burlington, Vt. Both had been burned critically in the fire that followed the explosion.

Thirty-eight of the 201 injured in the blast remained in critical condition. Rear Adm. Lamont Pugh, Navy surgeon general, said some of the 39 may be hospitalized as long as a year — if they live.

A special Navy board of inquiry poked through the gutted interior of the huge ship for the second day in an effort to determine what caused the disaster.

The Bennington's skipper, Capt. William F. Raborn and other survivors of the explosion will give their versions of what happened aboard the carrier when the board begins public hearings in the inquiry tomorrow.

Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, made a personal inspection of the wreckage last night. He described the explosion as "freakish."

He brushed aside most questions about catapults, saying: "I'm not in the speculating business."

Carney refused to comment on apparent similarities between the "Big Ben" explosion and the one that killed 37 men aboard the carrier Leyte in Boston harbor last October.

An investigation of the Leyte disaster showed it was caused by a faulty catapult mechanism. Just before the Bennington explosion occurred, a flight of jet planes had been launched by catapult.

4 Candidates for County Offices Fail to File Corrupt Practice Pledge

More Posts Abandoned by French

HANOI, Indochina (UP) — French Union troops abandoned and blew up a series of isolated outposts today in an emergency regrouping to meet the threat of an all-out Communist offensive believed scheduled for about mid-June.

The small garrisons were withdrawn from the outposts along the Red River delta defense perimeter to form mobile units of considerable strength that can concentrate their firepower against the well-armed Viet Minh rebels.

Tanks, armored cars and artillery, until now scattered along the curving defense line, were ordered to assembly in units large enough to fight back and avoid the risk of one "Dien Bien Phu" after another until they were overwhelmed.

Military authorities said they believed Red Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap would launch his general offensive against the delta around June 15 and order a simultaneous uprising by guerrillas within the delta against major defense cities like Phay Ly and Nam Dinh.

The regrouping was expected to make at least one full division available for a concentrated defense of Hanoi and its 38-mile-long life line to the port city of Haiphong.

Giap already has a reported 100,000 Communist regulars and guerrillas in the Red River delta, many of them in the Hanoi-Haiphong area. Two divisions totaling 20,000 men were concentrating against Ye Phu, key to the southern defenses below Hanoi.

The Red divisions were steadily fighting their nose of trenches on the little outpost despite the heaviest French air attacks since the siege of Dien Bien Phu.

Separated Twin Removed to His Home

CHICAGO, Ill. — Rodney De Brodie, a good-looking, 32-month-old youngster who survived an historic separation from his Siamese twin brother is back home learning to live like a normal boy.

He is finding out how to walk and to play with his two brothers and two sisters in their parents' home at Ferris, Ill. His doctors say his progress is "dramatic."

However, the little boy still wears a plastic helmet to protect his skull. There is an area about one and a half times the size of a man's hand which is covered only by skin.

This fact is Rodney's last major handicap stemming from the operation Dec. 17, 1952, which separated the little boy from his brother, Roger Lee.

The children had been born joined at the top of their skulls. The operation that cut them apart was the first of its kind in medical annals. However, Roger Lee, the weaker of the two died Jan. 20, 1953.

Rodney's fight to become like other little boys was related yesterday at a news conference by Dr. Herbert J. Grossman, Gross-man, a pediatrician, participated in the 12-hour operation that freed the twins and has cared for Rodney here at the University of Illinois hospital, where the child has spent most of his life.

Rodney has been in Ferris since May 6 and will stay there with his family about a month or six weeks, Grossman said.

"A hospital is no place for a boy," he added.

"His visit is a therapeutic as anything else that has been done for him," Grossman said. "He must learn who his parents are and who his brothers and sisters are so that he can take his right place in society as a happy and effective human being."

Rodney, has troubles using his left side and still needs a helping hand to walk. But he can talk in a little boy's short sentences and likes to tear up books, listen to records and play with trucks, cars and airplanes — all normal characteristics of boys his age.

Grossman said doctors are still stymied by the "fantastic" problem of how to cover Rodney's brain.

They may solve the problem within months, or it may take years, Grossman said. Perhaps he said, it can never be done.

Ideally, Grossman said, only Rodney's own bone should be used for grafts. Doctors are afraid of the results of a plastic or metal covering.

Whatever the solution, Rodney will still have to "commute" between his parents' home and the hospital for observation and further treatment.

Goat Alarm
At Killorglin, County Kerry, England, a goat is crowned king during a three-day fair each year, commemorating the day in ancient times when a goat's bleating warned the village of an approaching army.

It has been called to my attention that Clifford Byers failed to file his Corrupt Practice Pledge with the County Clerk within the time prescribed by law and is therefore ineligible to have his name placed on the ballot as a candidate for County Treasurer of Hempstead County in the Primary Elections to be held July 27th and August 10th.

Although Mr. Byers is one of my opponents for this office I feel and have always felt that the people should have the privilege of voting for the candidate of their choice regardless of legal technicalities and therefore wish to state that personally I have no objection to Mr. Byers' name being placed on the ballot for this office in the forthcoming elections.

Hinton, Hinton Feed and Seed Store, Ruston, show pride in James Van Hook's Reserve Grand Champion-Arbor Acres White Rocks and their trophy. Joel accepted the trophy for James, an active 4-H club member, who was unable to attend. Mr. Hinton, who supplied the feed for James' entry, paid $175 for the birds at the auction in the Hotel Bently, Alexandria, Friday, May 21. James' chicks came from Western Hatcheries, Texarkana.

★ CHAMPION ADULT DIVISION

Clyde Ingram, Extension Poultry Specialist, congratulates Mrs. Artis Colvin, Ruston, on her Western's Vantress White Cornish Crosses which were named Champions of the Adult Division, as A. L. Hethcox and J. V. Hinton look on. The Ralston Furina Co., Shreveport, bought Mrs. Colvin's birds for $125. The heaviest entry in the entire show was also Western's Vantress White Cornish Crosses grown by Miss Glenda Suggs, Lisbon. Her six 9-week-old cockerels weighed a whopping 29 1/2 pounds — almost five pounds per bird!

New driver comfort!

New driving ease!

New Chevrolet Trucks...

do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save time in traffic. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission gets you off to smooth, time-saving starts without shifting or clutching. Imagine how easy this makes driving in traffic and on delivery routes! It's optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models.

You save time on the highway. New high-compression power gets you up to highway speeds from a standing start in less time, and saves you time on hills, too. You make trips faster—and the new Comfortmaster cab makes them seem shorter. It's got everything!

You save extra trips, too. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pickup bodies are deeper... new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground for easier loading.

You save on operating costs. High-compression power saves you money! The "Thrillmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235" and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost) deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer and save you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models... bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models... stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and they never stop. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. And it's also the truck that has a traditionally high trade-in value.

Come in and see how much you're saving with America's number one truck. You'll find the way we're talking business!

Faith will overcome the most miserable circumstances

Master...

He walked on the water. He stilled the storm. He calmed the winds. He healed the sick. He overcame Satan. He even forgives sin... What a Master! Napoleon said "Jesus founded an empire upon love, and at this hour millions of men would die for Him. He loved the church enough to die for it. Do you love the church? Without Him, what business can succeed? What nation can survive? What soul can be redeemed? He has outlasted the empire that crucified Him, and will outlast the dictators who defy Him. Is He your Master?"

KCMC-TV to Hike Power Today

TEXARKANA (AP) Television Station KCMC-TV, operating on Channel 6, today boosted its power from 25,000 watts to 100,000 watts, the maximum allowed by the Federal Communications Commission.

Station officials said yesterday that televiewers in a 30 to 75 mile range of the station will get a brighter picture because of the power increase. Satisfactory service is expected for viewers 125 miles away.

KCMC-TV is the first station between Memphis and Dallas to boost its power to the maximum, officials said. The station serves areas of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma.
